

Chris Kunzle has been woodworking and woodturning for over forty years and has taught and demonstrated for many different woodturning clubs and venues. In his early years Chris was an Olympic athlete representing his native country, Switzerland. As an entrepreneur he has started various companies and for twenty years was the CEO of a subsidiary of a Swiss pharmaceutical company. Chris retired about four years ago and lives outside Purcellville, VA. He is a member of Catoctin Area Turners and the Mid Maryland Woodturning Club and enjoys, among other things, spending time in his shop."

For our November meeting, Chris Kunzle will be returning to our club to demonstrate his approach to multi-axis turning. He will be showing various approaches to multi-axis work, including the use of specialty chucks designed for that purpose, and then demonstrating a project that can be completed with more conventional equipment.
